PRESS RELEASE

For Immediate Release: June 7, 2017

10th Annual Jersey Shore Film Festival in Asbury Park, NJ

(August 3-7, 2017) We invite you to become part of the festival that shares its name with one of the most pristine summer locales in the nation – ‘The Jersey Shore’. The Jersey Shore Film Festival (JSFF) will showcase the best independent films from around the state, country, and world.

JSFF is a non-profit organization and a portion of all proceeds will go directly to supporting a different charity each night. Organizations will include Ronald McDonald House New York and Autism Awareness Foundation of America.

Thursday evening August 3, JSFF will host an ‘Opening Night Gala’ highlighting the filmmakers and their films at this year’s festival. August 4 to 6, the films will screen at the “House of Independents” right in the heart of Asbury, Park NJ, just a few blocks from the beach. August 7, JSFF will host an exit breakfast and activities on the beach.

Asbury Park is the summer hot spot of New Jersey with some of the best nightlife in the country. JSFF is projected to attract thousands of visitors from all around the region including innovative filmmakers, industry decision-makers, Hollywood celebrities, recreational and dedicated film viewers, and industry press. Throughout the weekend there will be events on the beach and at other venues where attendees can mingle with filmmakers and network with industry professionals.

Continuing the long tradition of supporting the community, JSFF is partnering with the Asbury Park Chamber of Commerce and other local businesses. Attendees of the festival will receive discounts and incentives to visit sponsored locations throughout Asbury Park.

Tickets for film screenings are on sale through TicketWeb.com and the full festival schedule hosted on JerseyShoreFilmFestival.com. The JSFF website and social media pages will be updated daily throughout the festival making it easy for attendees to schedule their activities. Be sure to follow us online for all our announcements.

The 10th Annual Jersey Shore Film Festival is hosted by Founding Director and Jersey Shore local, Stevie Doueck, with new Festival Director, John Hedlund, overseeing event operations.

We are looking forward to seeing you this August in Asbury Park, New Jersey!
